A life changing retreat by the sea

Join Kim Hughes of Conscious Connections and Jessica Shields Flowers of Ripple for a retreat centered on learning the skills of Conscious Discipline®, a highly effective self-regulation program based on current brain research, child development, and developmentally appropriate practices empowering teachers and parents to significantly impact children's behavior.

Our 4-day retreat, June 18-21, will create life-changing experiences that bring the concepts and principles of Conscious Discipline to life with real examples, real practice and real connections.

Jessica and Kim's passionate, informative and entertaining styles will empower you to discover the tools you need to break down whatever barriers are preventing you from experiencing lasting change!

Join us in a pristine, secluded center on the sea. The Trinity Center is located on the North Carolina coast near Emerald Isle. Accommodations are clean, comfortable and private. Each unit has 2 beds (1 double and 1 single) and a private bath. Space is limited so register early! Indicate roommate preference if you're coming with a friend.

We'll begin each day with an informative and interactive session, followed by time in the afternoon to reflect on the morning's focus by relaxing on the beach, taking long walks or curled up with a favorite book or journal. We'll enjoy another invigorating afternoon session and evening connection activity during our time together.

Don't miss this interactive session filled with great information and tips to empower YOU and the children you love with the passion and compassion we all deserve!
